14 to maintain the non-trade secret Confidential Business Information in a confidential manner, and
15 not to use the non-trade secret Confidential Business Information for Defendants' own purposes.

16 43. Defendants accepted the non-trade secret Confidential Business Information as 21 Defendants in confidence for the purpose of furthering a collaborative development effort.

45. Defendants accepted the non-trade secret Confidential Technical Information as alleged herein voluntarily and for the purpose of furthering a collaborative development effort, thereby owing I-FLOW a duty of confidence with respect to I-FLOW's non-trade secret Confidential Technical Information.

46. I-FLOW is informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that Defendants have willfully and in conscious disregard for the duty of confidence owed to I-FLOW, used for Defendants' own purposes and disclosed to others I-FLOW's non-trade secret Confidential Business Information and/or non-trade secret Confidential Technical Information.

47. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' willful, improper, and unlawful use and disclosure of I-FLOW's non-trade secret Confidential Business Information and non-trade secret Confidential Technical Information, I-FLOW has and will continue to suffer great harm and damage. I-FLOW will continue to be irreparably damaged unless Defendants are enjoined from further use and disclosure of I-FLOW's non-trade secret Confidential Business Information and non-trade secret Confidential Technical Information.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(UNFAIR COMPETITION)

49. I-FLOW hereby realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 48.

50. This is a cause of action for Unfair Competition under the California common law.

 3 unlawful business practices including, but not limited to, using for Defendants' own purposes, and
 4 adversely to the interests of I-FLOW and its business venture, I-FLOW's non-trade secret
 5 Confidential Business Information and non-trade secret Confidential Technical Information.

6 53. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' willful, improper, and unlawful use
 7 and disclosure of I-FLOW's non-trade secret Confidential Business Information and non-trade
 8 secret Confidential Technical Information, I-FLOW has and will continue to suffer great harm and 9 damage. I-FLOW will continue to be irreparably damaged unless Defendants are enjoined from 10 further committing unfair and unlawful business practices against I-FLOW and I-FLOW's business.

11 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

13 54. I-FLOW hereby realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations set forth
 14 in paragraphs 1 through 53.

15 55. This is a cause of action for Statutory Unfair Competition under California Bus. &
 16 Prof. Code § 17200, et seq.

 20 compete with that of I-FLOW, constitutes unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent business practices in 21 violation of California Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq.

 23 use and disclosure of I-FLOW's non-trade secret Confidential Business Information and non-
 24 trade secret Confidential Technical Information, I-FLOW has and will continue to suffer great 25 harm and damage. I-FLOW will continue to be irreparably damaged unless Defendants are

DECISION

A substantial new question of patentability affecting claims 1-28 of United States Patent Number 5,284,481 is raised by the request for ex parte reexamination.

Service of Papers

After the filing of a request for reexamination by a third party requester, any document filed by either the patent owner or the third party requester must be served on the other party (or parties where two or more third party requester proceedings are merged) in the reexamination proceeding in the manner provided in 37 CFR 1.248. See 37 CFR 1.550(f).

Waiver of Right to File Patent Owner Statement

In a reexamination proceeding, Patent Owner may waive the right under 37 C.F.R. 1.530 to file a Patent Owner Statement. The document needs to contain a statement that Patent Owner waives the right under 37 C.F.R. 1.530 to file a Patent Owner Statement and proof of service in the manner provided by 37 C.F.R. 1.248, if the request for reexamination was made by a third party requester, see 37 C.F.R. 1.550(f). The Patent Owner may consider using the following statement in a document waiving the right to file a Patent Owner Statement:

Patent Owner waives the right under 37 C.F.R. 1.530 to file a Patent Owner Statement.

Extensions of Time

Extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.136(a) will not be permitted in these proceedings because the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 apply only to "an applicant" and not to parties in a reexamination proceeding. Additionally, 35 U.S.C. 305 requires that ex parte reexamination proceedings "will be conducted with special dispatch" (37 CFR 1.550(a)). Extensions of time in ex parte reexamination proceedings are provided for in 37 CFR 1.550(c).

Application/Control Number: 90/008,880

Art Unit: 3993

Amendment in Reexamination Proceedings

Patent owner is notified that any proposed amendment to the specification and/or claims in this reexamination proceeding must comply with 37 CFR 1.530(d)-(j), must be formally presented pursuant to 37 CFR 1.52(a) and (b), and must contain any fees required by 37 CFR 1.20(c). See MPEP § 2250(IV) for examples to assist in the preparation of proper proposed amendments in reexamination proceedings.

Submissions

In order to insure full consideration of any amendments, affidavits or declarations or other documents as evidence of patentability, such documents must be submitted in response to the first Office action on the merits (which does not result in a close of prosecution). Submissions after the second Office action on the merits, which is intended to be a final action, will be governed by the requirements of 37 CFR 1.116, after final rejection and by 37 CFR 41.33 after appeal, which will be strictly enforced.

Notification of Concurrent Proceedings

The patent owner is reminded of the continuing responsibility under 37 CFR 1.565(a), to apprise the Office of any litigation activity, or other prior or concurrent proceeding, involving Patent No. 5,284,481 throughout the course of this reexamination proceeding. Likewise, if present, the third party requester is also reminded of the ability to similarly apprise the Office of any such activity or proceeding throughout the course of this reexamination proceeding. See MPEP §§ 2207, 2282 and 2286.

Application/Control Number: 90/008,880

Art Unit: 3993

Substantial New Question

The substantial new question of patentability (SNQP) is based on:

USPN 3,810,503 to Lewis et al.
USPN 4,547,900 to Larkin et al.
USPN 4,686,125 to Johnston et al.
USPN 5,080,652 to Sancoff et al.
USPN 5,105,983 to Sancoff et al.
EPO 90311152.4 to Block Medical, Inc.

A discussion of the specifics now follows:

Requester's Position

1. The request indicates that Requester considers that Claims 1-2,4-5,10,12-17,20,27-28 of the 5,284,481 Patent are unpatentable over Sancoff et al (USPN 5,105,983).
2. The request indicates that Requester considers that Claims 1-28 of the 5,284,481 Patent are unpatentable over Sancoff et al (USPN 5,105,983).
3. The request indicates that Requester considers that Claims 1-28 of the 5,284,481 Patent are unpatentable over Sancoff et al (USPN 5,105,983) and either Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), or Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125).
4. The request indicates that Requester considers that Claims 1-28 of the 5,284,481 Patent are unpatentable over Sancoff et al (USPN 5,080,652) and either Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), or Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125).

3. The request indicates that Requester considers that Claims 1-28 of the 5,284,481 Patent are unpatentable over Block Medical (EPO 90311152.4) and either Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), or Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125).

Analysis of the Prior Art Provided in the Request

It is agreed that the consideration of Sancioff et al (USPN 5,105,983) raises a SNQP as to claims 1-28 of the '481 Patent. As pointed out in the request on pages 2 through 20, Sancioff teaches a compact portable collapsible infusion apparatus for dispensing a liquid under pressure at a substantially constant flow rate over a period of time (see summary) comprising: an elongated generally, cylindrical support member having inlet means including an inlet port in one end of said member, and outlet means including an outlet port in the other end of said member (see figure 10); elongated elastic sleeve means mounted in non-stretched surface contact and sealingly secured at fixed spaced longitudinal positions on said support member for defining a substantially zero non-pressurized volume pressure reservoir for holding a liquid in a pressurized state for dispensing therefrom (element 152, see figures 10-11); a first housing means comprising collapsible non-stretchable housing means / shell for containing and enclosing said support member and said pressure reservoir for enabling said pressure reservoir to expand naturally and for confining said reservoir to fill concentrically about said support member (element 146, see figures 10 and 11); inlet means (156) for introducing a liquid into said elastic pressure reservoir; and outlet means (160) for dispensing liquid from said pressure reservoir to a selected site.

Sarnoff et al (USPN 5,105,983) was used in rejecting claims 11,21-28 in the Non-Final Office Action dated 4/27/93; however, the reference was used as a secondary reference and not relied on to teach the limitations as described above. Further, there is a substantial likelihood that a reasonable examiner would consider this teaching important in deciding whether or not these claims are patentable. Accordingly, Sarnoff et al (USPN 5,105,983) raises a substantial new question of patentability as to claims 1-28, which question has not been decided in a previous examination of the '481 Patent.

It is agreed that the consideration of Sarnoff et al (USPN 5,105,983) and either Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), or Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125) raises a SNQP as to claims 1-28 of the '481 Patent. As pointed out in the request on pages 21 through 35, Sarnoff teaches a compact portable collapsible infusion apparatus for dispensing a liquid under pressure at a substantially constant flow rate over a period of time (see summary) comprising: an elongated generally, cylindrical support member having inlet means including an inlet port in one end of said member, and outlet means including an outlet port in the other end of said member (see figure 10); elongated elastic sleeve means mounted in non-stretched surface contact and sealingly secured at fixed spaced longitudinal positions on said support member for defining a substantially zero non-pressurized volume pressure reservoir for holding a liquid in a pressurized state for dispensing therefrom (element 152, see figures 10-11); a first housing means comprising collapsible non-stretchable housing means / shell for containing and enclosing said support member and said pressure reservoir for enabling said pressure reservoir to expand naturally and for confining said reservoir to fill concentrically about said support member (element 146, see figures 10-11); inlet means (156) for introducing a liquid into said elastic pressure reservoir; and outlet means (160) for dispensing liquid from said pressure reservoir to a selected site.

Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503) teaches containers made of "polypropylene, copolymers of polypropylene, polyethylene, copolymers of polyethylene, and polyvinyl chloride" ('503 patent, col. 9, lines 5-7) with a wall thickness of from 0.005 inches to 0.06 inches ('503 patent, col. 9, lines 12- 15). Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900) teaches "flexible container[s]" (title) made of "plastic material such as polyethylene, polypropylene, polyvinylchloride or other commonly known plastics" ('900 patent, col. 4, lines 63-65). Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125) teaches "film laminate for flexible containers" ('125 patent, col. 1, lines 67-68) made of polyethylene and polyurethane ('125 patent, col. 2, lines 4, 10) with a wall thickness of 90 to 240 microns ('125 patent, col. 2, lines 7-10).

Sarnoff et al (USPN 5,105,983) was used in rejecting claims 11,21-28 in the Non-Final Office Action dated 4/27/93; however, the reference was used as a secondary reference and not relied on to teach the limitations as described above. Additionally, Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), or Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125) were not relied on during the prosecution of the '481 patent. Further, there is a substantial likelihood that a reasonable examiner would consider these teachings important in deciding whether or not these claims are patentable. Accordingly, Sarnoff et al (USPN 5,105,983) and either Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), or Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125) raises a substantial new question of patentability as to claims 1-28, which question has not been decided in a previous examination of the '481 Patent.

4. It is agreed that the consideration of Sancoff et al (USPN 5,080,652) and either Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), or Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125) raises a SNQP as to claims 1-28 of the '481 Patent. As pointed out in the request on pages 35 through 49, Sancoff '652 teaches a compact portable collapsible infusion apparatus for dispensing a liquid under pressure at a substantially constant flow rate over a period of time (see summary) comprising: an elongated generally, cylindrical support member having inlet means including an inlet port in one end of said member, and outlet means including an outlet port in the other end of said member (see figures 1-2); elongated elastic sleeve means mounted in non-stretched surface contact and sealingly secured at fixed spaced longitudinal positions on said support member for defining a substantially zero non-pressurized volume pressure reservoir for holding a liquid in a pressurized state for dispensing therefrom (element 22, see col. 4 lines 16-26); a first housing means comprising collapsible non-stretchable housing means / shell for containing and enclosing said support member and said pressure reservoir for enabling said pressure reservoir to expand naturally and for confuting said reservoir to fill concentrically about said support member (element 12, see col. 5 lines 14-19); inlet means (52) for introducing a liquid into said elastic pressure reservoir; and outlet means (60) for dispensing liquid from said pressure reservoir to a selected site.

Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503) teaches containers made of "polypropylene, copolymers of polypropylene, polyethylene, copolymers of polyethylene, and polyvinyl chloride" ('503 patent, col. 9, lines 5-7) with a wall thickness of from 0.005 inches to 0.06 inches ('503 patent, col. 9, lines 12- 15). Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900) teaches "flexible container[s]" (title) made of

"plastic material such as polyethylene, polypropylene, polyvinylchloride or other commonly known plastics" ('900 patent, col. 4, lines 63-65). Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125) teaches "film laminate for flexible containers" ('125 patent, col. 1, lines 67-68) made of polyethylene and polyurethane ('125 patent, col. 2, lines 4, 10) with a wall thickness of 90 to 240 microns ('125 patent, col. 2, lines 7-10).

Sarnoff et al (USPN 5,080,652) was used in rejecting claims 1-16 and 21-28 in the Non-Final Office Action dated 4/27/93. However, the reference is now being relied on to teach a medical infusion kit including a plurality of substantially identically collapsible infusion devices; a generally cylindrical substantially rigid housing having an open end for receiving said support member; and a substantially spherical configuration with a removable closure for enabling receipt of the pressure reservoir in a filled condition. Additionally, Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), and Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125) were not relied on during the prosecution of the '481 patent. Further, there is a substantial likelihood that a reasonable examiner would consider these teachings important in deciding whether or not these claims are patentable. Accordingly, Sarnoff et al (USPN 5,080,652) and either Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), or Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125) raises a substantial new question of patentability as to claims 1-28, which question has not been decided in a previous examination of the '481 Patent.

5. Block Medical (EPO 90311152.4) and either Lewis et al (USPN 3,810,503), Larkin et al (USPN 4,547,900), or Johnston et al (USPN 4,686,125) does not raise a SNQP as to claims 1-28 of the '481 Patent. Block Medical has priority to US applications 07/429,313 and

Art Unit: 3993

07/492,982 which resulted in USPNs 5,080,652 and 5,105,983 to Sarnoff above. Therefore, the Block Medical reference is a redundant reference that does not present a SNQP but rather recites the same SNQP as already presented.

The patent owner's correspondence address for all communications in an ex parte reexamination or an inter partes reexamination is designated as the correspondence address of the patent.

Revisions and Technical Corrections Affecting Requirements for Ex Parte and Inter Partes Reexamination, 72 FR 18892 (April 16, 2007)(Final Rule)

The correspondence address for any pending reexamination proceeding not having the same correspondence address as that of the patent is, by way of this revision to 37 CFR 1.33(c), automatically changed to that of the patent file as of the effective date.

This change is effective for any reexamination proceeding which is pending before the Office as of May 16, 2007, including the present reexamination proceeding, and to any reexamination proceeding which is filed after that date.

Parties are to take this change into account when filing papers, and direct communications accordingly.

In the event the patent owner's correspondence address listed in the papers (record) for the present proceeding is different from the correspondence address of the patent, it is strongly encouraged that the patent owner affirmatively file a Notification of Change of Correspondence Address in the reexamination proceeding and/or the patent (depending on which address patent owner desires), to conform the address of the proceeding with that of the patent and to clarify the record as to which address should be used for correspondence.
